A photograph of a modern coffee shop or lounge area. The room has a high ceiling with several large, pendant-style lights. The back wall is covered in a textured, grey, panelled wall. In the foreground, there are several wooden tables with white chairs, some occupied by people. The overall aesthetic is clean and contemporary.
